Earn your MPH at UC Davis

Numerous ailments, from obesity and cardiovascular disease to cancer and smoking-related illnesses, can be addressed through a public health approach. At UC Davis we train public health professionals in the tools used to prevent and control disease, and to improve the health of populations worldwide. Our MPH Program is fully accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health.

Why UC Davis?

- Top ranked faculty in public health and related disciplines
- Strong collaborative links with the California Department of Public Health, local health departments and other public health agencies
- Rural location, yet close to urban centers and state and local health departments
- Practical approach in preparing students for careers in public health

Is a MPH at UC Davis for you?

Come join us at our MPH Information Night to meet our Program Director and learn more about the program and admission requirements!
